

1.2.2 Reform of the public investment management, encompassing the regulatory framework on public investments, the administrative set-up and the unified methodological approach to ensure compliance with the best international standards and allow for a more transparent and efficient implementation of the capital projects

Summary of checks performed by relevant authorities on the steps for which funding is requested, including weaknesses identified and any corrective actions taken.

In accordance with the requirements set forth in the national legal framework on public internal control, financial management and internal audit, RGF Regulation and the applicable Commission Implementing Decision, a comprehensive verification process was conducted by the competent authorities concerning this reform step. This process entailed a systematic collection and thorough review of all pertinent evidence, as part of the internal control framework in both implementing institutions – The Public Procurement Regulatory Commission and Ministry of Finance, Labour and Transfers- to assess the conformity of the reform step with the criteria defined in the Reform Agenda and related legal instruments. Checks and verifications were performed by the units responsible for implementing the reform step, the units responsible for coordination of Reform Agenda within the respective institution, and the institution's internal controls by senior management. Additionally, the Reform Agenda coordination structures within the Office of the Prime Minister have carried out their oversight responsibilities.

All relevant documentation and supporting materials have been gathered, examined, and documented in a dedicated verification checklist, ensuring a clear and transparent audit trail in compliance with established procedural standards. The verification checklist and supporting evidence have been securely archived to maintain the integrity and accessibility of the records.

Upon completion of these procedures, no weaknesses, discrepancies, or non-compliances were identified in relation to the reform step under review. Consequently, it is concluded that the reform step has been satisfactorily fulfilled in accordance with all applicable regulatory requirements.

The step under review	E-procurement system and Kosovo Financial Management Information System (KFMIS) are fully interoperable. Multi annual contractual commitment recordings are provided.
Baseline	E-procurement system and Kosovo Financial Management Information System (KFMIS) are not interoperable
Deadline of the step	June 2025
Actual results	The Reform Agenda defines the objective of this reform in relation to public investment management, with a particular focus on improving the transparency and efficiency of capital projects. In implementation, however, the interoperability between the E-Procurement System and the Kosovo Financial Management Information System (KFMIS) was extended beyond capital projects to cover all types of procurement procedures, including both annual and multi-annual contractual commitments. The interconnection and automated exchange of data between the E-Procurement System and KFMIS were fully implemented in August 2025 when the two systems became operation. Since then, the two systems have exchanged data successfully and on a regular basis for more than 3,900 procurement procedures involving annual and multi-annual contractual commitments. The relevant commitment data are provided by the Treasury and recorded in the E-Procurement System during the preparation of procurement procedures. At the initiation of each procurement procedure, the system automatically retrieves information from the Treasury to verify that a valid annual or multi-annual commitment is in place. A further mandatory verification is carried out before contract award and signature to confirm that the relevant commitment remains valid. The data exchange is not limited to confirming the existence and availability of annual or multi-annual budget commitments for the initiation of procurement procedures. It also includes information of direct relevance to the Treasury, such as the status of commitments, amounts available for release, the unique contract number and the status of the contract. This information was not available to the Treasury prior to the introduction of commitment recording and the interoperability of the two systems. Based on the above information and accompanying evidence, the E-Procurement System and KFMIS are fully interoperable, and the recording and verification of multi-annual contractual commitments are operational across all procurement procedures, including those related to capital projects. The reform step has therefore been fully achieved, with implementation extending beyond the original target of public investments to cover all categories of procurement procedures.

Evidence provided	1. Print Screens from dashboard (business processes steps-test cases) from two systems 2. Data exchange LOG-s for PULL-PUSH services generated-extracted from test cases, for 1 year commitments, 3. Data exchanges for multi-year commitments, 4. Demos (short video demos by Treasury) of a procurement process 5. Report on process description 6. MoU between MFLT and PPRC on Exchange of Data on Payments under Public Procurement Procedure to Increase Accountability in the Public Procurement Process and Improve Public Finance Management 7. Report of procurement procedures done via the interconnected systems (August 2025- June 2026) listing all procurement procedures conducted in KFMIS and e-procurement platforms 8. Kosovo Financial Management System (KFMIS) screenshots of requisitions for purchase for capital projects, and requisitions for purchase for goods and services category. 9. Report on all procurement commitments generated by KFMIS as evidence confirming the generation of the report (evidence 7) from the KFMIS system on all types of commitments.
Checks performed in the verification of the step and related findings	During the verification of this reform step, all relevant evidence was reviewed and summarised in the control checklist, while all supporting documents were properly stored to ensure a complete audit trail. The conducted checks and verifications confirmed that: • all required documents, as specified in Annex 1 of the Reform Agenda, were provided and attached to this report; • the submitted evidence is consistent with the description and requirements of the reform step set out in the Commission Implementing Decision; • the submitted documentation confirms the fulfilment of the reform step; • the submitted documentation confirms the period in which the reform step was fulfilled.

	Based on the checks and verifications conducted, the evidence provided confirms the achievement of this reform step and the relevant implementation period. No related findings were identified.
Compliance with general principles and DNSH principle	The implementation of this step does not contravene/contravenes the general principles outlined in Article 4 and 11(4) of Regulation (EU) 2024/1449 and Article 3 of the Facility Agreement. The implementation of this step does not contravene/contravenes the ‘Do No Significant Harm’ principle (DNSH).
Double funding	There are no contributions from third parties in support of the achievement of this step.
Clear conclusion on the achievement of the step	The reform step has been fully achieved, and the E-Procurement System and KFMIS are now fully interoperable. Accordingly, the interoperability requirement and the recording and verification of annual and multi-annual contractual commitments are fully operational.

1. Introduction

The Kosovo Financial Management Information System (KFMIS) and the Public Procurement Regulatory Commission (PPRC) e-Procurement system are seamlessly integrated through standardized web services, utilizing the Government Gateway (GG) as the central integration layer. This connection allows for the secure and efficient exchange of procurement-related data between the two systems, ensuring smooth coordination in public procurement and financial management.

Through this integration, critical information—such as Purchase Requisition (PR) details, contract data, and financial commitments—can be shared in real-time, ensuring consistency between procurement actions and budget execution. The process begins with budget preparation and approval in KFMIS, followed by procurement initiation and management in the PPRC system, using data retrieved from KFMIS.

Additionally, the integration enhances key controls and procedures, such as monitoring available funds, ensuring contract compliance, and validating payments and invoices. This flow of information not only improves the efficiency of procurement processes but also ensures the transparency and accountability of financial transactions.

This document provides a detailed, step-by-step overview of the entire process—from the creation of a Purchase Requisition (PR) in KFMIS to contract execution and payments supported by screenshots and technical explanations to illustrate the integration workflow.

2. One-year commitment process

2.1 Registration of the Purchase Requisition

The creation of the Purchase Requisition (PR) is performed within the KFMIS system and is considered the first step. Once the Purchase Requisition (PR) is created, there is also an option to print the "Requisition for Goods and Services" document. At this point, the procurement officer can initiate a procurement process in the PPRC system, using the PR number and the Budget Organization (BO) code, which corresponds to the institution to which the user belongs.

Using the combination of the PR number and the BO code, the PPRC system automatically sends a request to KFMIS. If both the PR number and BO code are valid, KFMIS returns the predefined data back to PPRC. This successful data exchange allows the procurement process to continue within the PPRC system, based on accurate and validated budget information. In this specific example, PR number 2025-25423 is recorded in the system.

For the PR registration process, you can find more detailed information and instructions in the PR registration video, Video PR_2025-25423, which provides a step-by-step guide for completing the registration successfully.

2.2 Transmission of Procurement Statuses from PPRC to KFMIS

Once the PPRC system initiates the procurement process, it will—depending on the specific phase of the process—automatically send status updates to KFMIS. These updates reflect the progress of the procurement procedure and are recorded in KFMIS under the section titled "Purchase Requisition Associated Contracts", which is part of the PR screen. This enables users in KFMIS to track the linkage between the original purchase requisition and the resulting procurement contracts in real time.

2.3 Creation of a Temporary Purchase Order

When the integration between PPRC and KFMIS is properly configured, the system is designed to automatically trigger the creation of a "Temp Saved Purchase Order" in KFMIS once the procurement status received from PPRC is "In realization".

This automatic action ensures that the purchase order process is aligned with the procurement procedure and helps reduce manual steps, minimize errors, and maintain data consistency between the two systems. The temporary purchase order serves as a draft that can later be reviewed and finalized by authorized users within KFMIS, based on the data received from the procurement process.

2.4 Saving the Purchase Order and Linking the Contract Data

After the procurement officer has reviewed the temporary purchase order generated by the system, they can proceed to save it in KFMIS. During this step, the system utilizes the Application ID—originally assigned to the temporary PO—to generate a sequential Purchase Order number in accordance with the predefined numbering logic configured in KFMIS. This action marks the transition from a draft (temporary) PO to a saved purchase order that is ready for further processing and execution.

Once the PO is saved, the user can access and review the associated contract details. As part of the integration with the PPRC system, the contract number received automatically through the procurement process is captured and stored in the "Reference Number" field of the Purchase Order screen in KFMIS. This ensures full traceability and alignment between the procurement and financial systems, reducing the need for manual data entry and strengthening data consistency across platforms. Furthermore, when the contract is moved to contract management (PPRC system), a link to the contract will appear in the "Contract" field. By clicking this link, the contract will open in a browser as a PDF document, directly retrieved from the PPRC system. This feature enables users to easily access and review the contract details in a standardized format.

It is important to note that this functionality is only possible through KFMIS and is protected by security certificates, which ensure proper system authentication. These certificates are crucial for secure communication between KFMIS and PPRC, guaranteeing that only authorized users can access sensitive procurement and contract data, maintaining the integrity and confidentiality of the system.

For more details on saving the Purchase Order (PO) and linking the contract data, please refer to the video Video PO_2025-22976, which provides a step-by-step guide on how to properly save the PO and associate the contract details.

2.5 Receiving Goods or Services in KFMIS

After the Purchase Order (PO) has been finalized and saved in KFMIS, the next phase in the public expenditures process is the receipt of goods or services, which is handled through the "Goods Receive Notes" module. This step ensures that the delivery of items or execution of services is formally acknowledged and recorded in the KFMIS system. The Receive Note is directly linked to the corresponding Purchase Order, allowing KFMIS to track what has been delivered versus what was ordered and committed.

2.6 Creation of the Expense Voucher in KFMIS

After the goods or services have been received and recorded in the system, the next step is the creation of the Expense Voucher. This voucher contains all the necessary information required to process the payment for the received items or services. The Expense Voucher includes key payment-related data, such as the Vendor Details, which are directly linked to the vendor information received from PPRC—specifically the economic operator who signed the contract. This ensures that the payment is accurately associated with the correct procurement process and contractual agreement, maintaining data integrity across systems.

Once approved, the Expense Voucher becomes the basis for initiating the payment through the Treasury, completing the full lifecycle of a procurement transaction—from requisition to disbursement.

For a more detailed explanation of how the Expense Voucher is created and processed, you can refer to the video Video EV_188973, which provides a step-by-step guide on how to generate and approve the Expense Voucher for payment processing.

2.7 Payment Execution and Notification to PPRC

Once the Expense Voucher is approved, the Treasury proceeds with the creation of a Payment Extract. This module allows the grouping of multiple approved Expense Vouchers for execution as a batch payment. The system prepares the payment based on the predefined configurations and routes it through the appropriate Treasury Bank Account using the selected payment method. As seen in the screenshot, once the payment extract is created and marked as Released, it becomes eligible for further processing and submission to the bank.

Following this phase, based on a configurable and periodic background job (JOB), the system automatically sends summarized payment data to the PPRC system. This includes the total amount paid per contract up to that point, enabling PPRC to remain updated on the financial status of each contract.

This final step ensures transparency, traceability, and alignment between procurement execution and actual disbursement, closing the loop of the end-to-end procurement-to-payment process.

3. Multi-year commitment process

3.1 Registration of the Purchase Requisition

The creation of the Purchase Requisition (PR) is performed within the KFMIS system and represents the first step in the procurement-to-payment process. Once the PR is created, the system also offers the option to print the "Requisition for Goods and Services" document.

At this point, the procurement officer may initiate a procurement procedure in the PPRC system, using the PR number and the Budget Organization (BO) code, which identifies the institution responsible for the procurement. The PPRC system, through integration with KFMIS, sends an automatic request using the PR number and BO code. If both values are valid, KFMIS returns the relevant predefined PR data, allowing the procurement process to continue based on accurate and validated budgetary information.

In this specific example, Purchase Requisition number 2025-25425 is recorded in the system and represents a multi-year commitment. The requisition includes three separate items, each corresponding to a specific fiscal year:

- Item 1: 12,000.00 for fiscal year 2025
- Item 2: 12,000.00 for fiscal year 2026
- Item 3: 14,000.00 for fiscal year 2027

This structure allows for the execution of a single procurement process covering multiple budget years, while maintaining clear allocation and traceability for each year's commitment. This is particularly important for framework or long-term contracts that require financial planning beyond a single fiscal year.

For a detailed guide on how to manage multi-year Purchase Requests (PR), please refer to the video Video MY_PR_2025-25425, which provides a step-by-step explanation of how to process and handle PRs that span multiple years, ensuring accurate data entry and alignment with the budgetary and procurement processes.

3.2 Transmission of Procurement Statuses from PPRC to KFMIS

Once the PPRC system initiates the procurement process, it will—depending on the specific phase of the procedure—automatically send status updates to KFMIS. These updates reflect the progress of the procurement activity and are recorded in KFMIS under the section titled "Purchase Requisition Associated Contracts", which is part of the PR screen.

In the case of multi-year commitments, where a single Purchase Requisition includes multiple items distributed across different fiscal years, the integration still ensures that all relevant procurement statuses—covering all years involved—are accurately reflected in KFMIS. Each associated contract and its respective financial impact across the budget years can be traced and monitored directly from the PR screen.

This functionality ensures that users in KFMIS can maintain visibility over the full scope of the procurement process, including contracts that span several years, while preserving alignment between procurement execution and budget allocations for each fiscal year.

3.3 Creation of a Temporary Purchase Order

When the integration between PPRC and KFMIS is properly configured, the system is designed to automatically trigger the creation of a "Temp Saved Purchase Order" in KFMIS as soon as the procurement status received from PPRC is marked as "In realization."

In the case of multi-year commitments, where a single procurement process results in one or more contracts covering multiple fiscal years, the system generates a corresponding temporary purchase order for each contract, with line items reflecting the appropriate allocation per fiscal year.

This automated mechanism ensures that the purchase order process is fully aligned with the procurement procedure, while maintaining the correct distribution of committed amounts across budget years. It minimizes the need for manual entry, reduces the risk of errors, and strengthens data consistency between PPRC and KFMIS. The temporary purchase orders serve as draft versions, which can be reviewed and finalized by authorized users, accurately reflecting the structure and financial scope of the multi-year procurement.

3.4 Saving the Purchase Order and Linking the Contract Data

After the procurement officer has reviewed the temporary purchase order generated by the system, they can proceed to save it in KFMIS. During this step, the system uses the Application ID—originally assigned to the temporary PO—to generate a sequential Purchase Order number, following the predefined numbering logic configured in KFMIS. This marks the transition from a draft (temporary) PO to a finalized purchase order, ready for further financial processing. In the context of multi-year commitments, each purchase order may include multiple line items distributed across different fiscal years, as defined in the original multi-year Purchase Requisition. This structure ensures that each year's commitment is properly tracked and executed.

Once the PO is saved, the user can access and review the associated contract details. As part of the integration with the PPRC system, the contract number received automatically during the procurement process is stored in the "Reference Number" field of the PO screen in KFMIS. This provides clear traceability between the contract and the financial obligation, ensuring alignment across procurement and financial management systems, reducing manual intervention, and supporting transparent multi-year budget execution. Furthermore, when the contract is moved to contract management (PPRC system), a link to the contract will appear in the "Contract" field. By clicking this link, the contract will open in a browser as a PDF document, directly retrieved from the PPRC system. This feature enables users to easily access and review the contract details in a standardized format.

It is important to note that this functionality is only possible through KFMIS and is protected by security certificates, which ensure proper system authentication. These certificates are crucial for secure communication between KFMIS and PPRC, guaranteeing that only authorized users can access sensitive procurement and contract data, maintaining the integrity and confidentiality of the system.

For further guidance on how to manage multi-year Purchase Orders and ensure accurate tracking of commitments across multiple fiscal years, please refer to the video Video MY PO 2025-22977, which provides a detailed explanation of how to process these types of commitments effectively in the system.

3.5 Receiving Goods or Services in KFMIS

After the Purchase Order (PO) has been finalized and saved in KFMIS, the next step in the public expenditure process is the receipt of goods or services, managed through the "Goods Receive Notes" module. This phase ensures that deliveries or services rendered are formally acknowledged and recorded in the system, enabling transparency and control over what is received versus what was ordered and financially committed.

In the case of multi-year commitments, where one procurement process results in multiple contracts or purchase orders across different fiscal years, the receipt of goods or services can be performed separately for each contract. This means that a distinct Goods Receive Note can be generated for each PO, allowing precise tracking and documentation aligned with the respective fiscal year and contract terms.

3.6 Creation of the Expense Voucher in KFMIS

After the goods or services have been received and recorded in the system, the next step is the creation of the Expense Voucher. This document captures all the essential payment-related information needed to process the financial obligation for the received items or services.

In the case of multi-year commitments, separate Expense Vouchers can be created for each fiscal year and contract, depending on when the delivery or service takes place. This allows for accurate tracking of expenditures against the original multi-year Purchase Requisition and ensures compliance with yearly budget allocations.

The Expense Voucher includes key data such as the Vendor Details, which are directly linked to the economic operator that signed the contract, as received from PPRC. This linkage guarantees that payments are correctly associated with the appropriate procurement process and contract, maintaining data integrity and auditability across integrated systems.

Once approved, the Expense Voucher becomes the official basis for initiating payment through the Treasury system, effectively completing a full procurement cycle—from requisition to multi-year disbursement.

For a more detailed explanation of how the Expense Voucher is created and processed, you can refer to the video Video MY_EV_2025-188974, which provides a step-by-step guide on how to generate and approve the Expense Voucher for payment processing.

3.7 Payment Execution and Notification to PPRC

Once the Expense Voucher is approved, the Treasury proceeds with the creation of a Payment Extract, which enables the grouping of multiple approved vouchers into a batch payment for execution. The system prepares the payment based on predefined configurations and routes it through the appropriate Treasury Bank Account, using the designated payment method.

In the case of multi-year commitments, payments may be executed in different fiscal years, corresponding to the delivery of goods or services and the timing of each approved Expense Voucher. Each payment is recorded and processed in alignment with the respective year's allocation, ensuring proper budget execution over multiple years.

As illustrated in the screenshot, once the Payment Extract is created and marked as Released, it becomes eligible for further processing and submission to the bank.

Following this phase and based on a configurable periodic background job (JOB), the system automatically sends payment summary data to the PPRC system. This data includes the total amount paid per contract up to the current point in time, allowing PPRC to stay informed about the financial execution status of each multi-year contract.

This final step reinforces transparency, traceability, and coordination between procurement and financial systems, and ensures that payments across multiple fiscal years are properly monitored and reported—effectively closing the loop in the end-to-end procurement-to-payment process for multi-year commitments.
